AMY SHARK IN MERREDIN

By MICHELLE ENDERSBEE

“Anyone who isn’t in this room tonight...tell them I said hi”

Amy Shark hit the stage on Sunday night, May 29th, 2022, to perform to a packed house at Cummins Theatre.

Merredin was the ninth stop on the West Australian leg of Amy’s “See U Somewhere Australia” tour. The artist spoke at length about her desire to get out and see the regions, to tour to places outside of the major cities and how important that was for her. It’s set to be a huge tour, with Amy visiting over forty towns and cities across the country.

The event was attended by close to 400 people, hailing from all over the region, some travelling almost 4 hours to see Amy perform in Cummins Theatre.

The show began at 7.30pm with support act, Dulcie, an all-girl indie pop trio hailing from Denmark, WA. The three young artists serenaded the crowd with their trademark ethereal sound and sweet harmonies.

At 8.30pm it was Amy’s turn; she emerged onstage to a roaring crowd and began with hits “Everybody Rise” and “All Loved Up”.

Throughout the night, the crowd was treated to personal anecdotes, and even some accent work, as the star explained she wanted the crowd to really get to know her.

The night was a smorgasbord of her best hits, and even included covers of “Simply the Best”, and The Killers “Mr Brightside”, which had the audience on their feet and dancing in the aisles.

Amy then thanked Merredin for coming out to the show and expressed her gratitude toward all those who support her and listen to her music.

The show ended with an encore of “Adore”, “Love Songs Ain’t For Us” and “I Said Hi”.

The crowd was buzzing as they left the theatre, and some were even heard exclaiming that it was “the best night of their life!”

This was a night a lot of people won’t forget anytime soon.

CYCLING ACROSS AUSTRALIA FOR POLIO AWARENESS

By ROY BUTLER

Tasmanian cyclists Phil and Joyce Ogden stopped for the night at Merredin recently. Their stay and sociable meal at the Senior Centre was organised by Heather Giles.

Phil and Joyce are riding their tandem bike from Perth to Adelaide, sponsored by Rotary District 9830, to raise funds for End Polio Now.

Polio is the common name for the virus infection poliomyelitis. Once greatly feared in Australia, polio is now unknown to many younger Australians but mostly remembered by older Australians who lived through the polio epidemics.

Recurrent epidemics of polio occurred in Australia from 1937 through to the 1950s. The disease could potentially leave its victims paralysed, sometimes permanently. The last polio epidemic in Australia was in 1961- 62. A very effective mass vaccination program, begun in 1956, resulted in Australia being officially declared polio-free in 2000.

Polio, however, still exists in the world and the WHO aims to eradicate it by vaccination. Today, some people who survived polio in their childhood experience problems known as the 'late effects' of polio, or post-polio syndrome.

Merredin had many cases of polio, especially in children. Florence Mary Scanlan (a masseuse, similar now to a physiotherapist), was especially renowned for her work in helping patients during Merredin's polio epidemic. For this work, and for much more that she did in the Merredin community, she was awarded the Order of the British Empire (OBE).

If you wish to donate to this Rotary fundraiser, go to <https://raise.rotary.org/phil-ogden/fundraiser>.

For every $1 raised the Bill and Melinda Gates Foundation gives $2.

THEATRE 180 WORKSHOPS

By MEG GETHIN

The Merredin Repertory Club was fortunate to be included in a Circuitwest project that provided free upskilling for a number of community theatre groups across Western Australia.

Since the project began, the Merredin Repertory Club has had an audience survey completed, some community engagement workshops, a sound and lighting workshop and a couple of acting/performance workshops.

The most recent workshop involved hosting actors Trent Baker and Tegan Mulvany from Theatre 180 (the theatre company that brought A Fortunate Life and the Sydney II: Lost & Found productions to Merredin).

Eleven adults worked with Trent on character development and analysing scripts on the Saturday and fourteen children did a fun improvisation workshop with Tegan on the Sunday.

The Merredin Repertory Club is currently in rehearsals for their mid-year play and is considering a junior rep club production again later in the year.

To stay up to date with all things drama, follow the Merredin Repertory Club Facebook page or get in touch via email at merredinrepclub@gmail.com.

My Thoughts

Kevin Tengvall

What a very strange world we live in, a world my parents wouldn't recognise and they have only been gone a few years.

Sometimes I think I want to be a hermit (some might say I should go and be a hermit).

Covid 19 is a right royal pain in the A, but we're learning to live with it, even though it's deadly, scary and economically hazardous to all of us.

This train of thought made me think of "the good ol' days", days when we ran around bare foot, didn't worry about being out in the sun (we were as brown as berries), we drank water straight from the hose. We spent more time outside than in, and world news came to us mainly in the evenings (thus not raising concerns until we were relaxed and more able to take it in).

Things were tougher in the "old days" but in hindsight they were pretty good.

Fast forward to today, where we get condensed or one-sided versions of the news every few minutes from anywhere in the world. And we are inundated with information overload that we are ill equipped to handle.

Is it any wonder there are so many suicides, people struggling with depression, with domestic violence and home invasions and the list goes on?

There is a saying that says "just stop and smell the roses". I think we should all stop at some time during the day to smell the roses, take time to breathe, relax for a moment before hurtling headfirst back into this crazy world we live in.

Yes, I know some things really are better today, medical, technical and political advances have all (well maybe not political) leapt forward in leaps and bounds.

I wonder what state the world will be in when in forty or fifty years from now people will look back on the twenties as the "good ol' days".

Fortunately, I doubt if I'll be around to see it. Is this what my parents and grandparents thought too?

It's not hard to work out that I'm a baby boomer, am I bemoaning the loss of the 60's? Maybe I am, we did have the best music, flower power and hippies, haha!

And here I am writing this on my laptop that has more memory than the computers used by NASA to put man on the moon, mind blowing, isn't it?

I will finish with a quote that I often think of, "I want to change the world, but the world is too hard. So, I'll change my country, but that's too hard, so I'll change my town, but that's too hard, so I'll change my street, but that's too hard also. Oh dear, I will change myself."

Until next time, happy changing.

HOCKEY & SUSTAINABILITY

The students in Years Three to Six had the opportunity to participate in Hockey WA CSBP Wheatbelt Roadshow on Thursday.

They had lots of fun and learnt a variety of new skills.

To encourage and increase our awareness of sustainability all classes from Kindy to Year Six are involved in various activities. These include recycling of batteries and coffee pods, containers for change, worm farms, composting, a vegetable garden and chickens.

FIRST SATURDAY MERREDIN MARKETS

By BRAIDIE HOLDER

The first Saturday Merredin Markets were a huge success! While it was chilly in the early morning on Saturday 21st May, it didn't take long for the sun to warm everyone up. The markets were busy as crowds came from election voting to stroll through the stalls.

With live music from Tom and Olga Kittyea, the atmosphere was festive and everyone was embracing the fantastic weather before the rain set in on Sunday night.

Burracoppin CWA's sausage sizzle was extremely popular, selling out multiple times. The Merredin CRC stall had fresh, hot donuts and hot chips, which were also rather popular.

There were so many awesome stalls at the market, including some locals like Lutum Designs, Hooked on a Statement, Scentsy, Grant with his bottles, Max and his plants and a few who made the trek from Perth like The Sleepy Sheep and Scents. With stalls being fully booked out and having to squeeze people in at the last minute, there was plenty there for everyone.

The CRC raffle was extremely successful thanks to the amazingly generous donations from local businesses in town, Merredin Flowers and Gifts, Go Mad, Two Dogs Merredin and Nextra Merredin. There were three prizes and as the winners were drawn, they got to choose their prize. The winners were Sophie Alberti, Pauline Bennett and Martin Morris who were extremely happy with their prizes. The proceeds from the raffle go towards activities at the next markets, so we can continue to make the Markets bigger and better for Merredin.

There was a "Kidz Korner" set up with games, drawing and free lolly bags to help keep the kids entertained, so Mum and Dad could browse the stalls. During the day many kids came up and had a draw and a play! Any ideas to help make the "Kidz Korner" more interesting are welcomed.

As this was the first trial of Saturday Markets, we would love some feedback from everyone that came along! If you have any thoughts from the markets, please send it to administration4@merredincrc.com.

The Merredin CRC would love to say a massive thank you to the stallholders, for coming out and giving everyone a reason to attend, the volunteers, for their tremendous help and the amazing Merredin Men's Shed, for assisting with the set up and pack down, the businesses for the raffle prizes and everyone that came out and made it a successful day.

“THE MID YEAR PLAY GOES TERRIBLY WRONG”

By MEG GETHIN

This June sees the annual Merredin Repertory Club play at the Cummins Theatre called "The Mid Year Play Goes Terribly Wrong".

The production has been devised and directed by Merredin local Chloe Flockart who up until the 2020 COVID crisis had been working professionally overseas in the arts sector. It contains some familiar faces as well as some exciting newcomers and is something quite different for the Merredin Repertory Club.

The synopsis is that the Merredin Rep Club is preparing to host a professional theatre company, but the unthinkable happens when the pros are a no show! (Through unusual and rather suspicious circumstances...)

The show must go on, and the Rep Club decides to improvise their way through the production, but things seem to go very, very wrong.

Tickets are now on sale through the Cummins Theatre website and there are 5 shows scheduled. Friday 17th June, Saturday 18th June, Sunday 19th June (2pm matinee with afternoon tea for sale) as well as Friday 24th and Saturday 25th June. Tables seating with BYO supper. Tickets are just $20 for adults and $15 for concession.

Come and check out this hilarious mishmash of plans gone wrong, suspicious circumstances, hidden agendas, and comedy from every direction!

Follow the Merredin Repertory Club on Facebook for any changes to the schedule.

“GATES” CAMERA CLUB MEETING

By GRANT STAINER

“Gates” was the theme for the May meeting of the Merredin Camera Club, and this proved to be a tricky subject but still achievable.

Fifteen photos filled the theme section this month, and another 13 photos filled the open section. The May judge was Richard Goodwin.

In the theme section, Mr Goodwin awarded gold to Pippa de Lacy’s “That’ll do...”.

Equal silver was awarded to “Back gate” and “Sitting on the gate”. Equal bronze was awarded to Shay Creagh’s “Morning gate”, Julie Alvaro’s “Rust and sunshine” and “Standing the test of time”, and Lorraine Ryan’s “Old school gate”.

In the open section, no gold or silvers were awarded this month. Equal bronze was awarded to Julie Alvaro’s “Seeding in the dry” and “Old mud brick home”, Pippa de Lacy’s “Barefooting”, Kate Caughey’s “Lake colours”, and Grant Stainer’s “Sunlit mallee tree”.

Club members voted somewhat similarly to the judge in both the theme and open sections.

In the theme section, first place went to Julie Alvaro’s “Standing the test of time”. Equal second place went to Julie Alvaro’s “Rust and sunshine” and Rosie Cahill’s “Gate and spade”. Equal third place went to “Sitting on the gate” and Shay Creagh’s “Morning gate”.

In the club member’s open section voting, first place went to Pippa de Lacy’s “Take off”. Equal second place went to Julie Alvaro’s “Seeding in the dry” and Kate Caughey’s “Lake colours”. Third place went to Grant Stainer’s “Sunlit mallee tree”.

The next meeting is scheduled for the 15th June, where the subject will be “concrete”, which may or may not be a ‘hard’ subject to photograph.

The Merredin Camera Club welcomes new members. For more information about the Merredin Camera Club, please email Kate Caughey at merredincameraclub@yahoo.com.au Successful Railway Requests...

The importance of local groups and their success in lobbying for recognition and better services for home, family and community is well known within rural WA. One organisation that may well be described at the bedrock of community engagement over the years is the Country Women's Association (CWA).

The following extract from an article published in The Western Mail on Thursday 14 November 1929 (p3) gives an insight into the activities centred around the Walgoolan community and in particular the efforts of the local branch of the CWA.

Walgoolan - On Saturday, October 12, this Branch held a successful Ball in aid of the Seaside Home. The popularity of the home, which will fill a long-felt want by the women of the bush, is steadily in measure here. The proceeds of the Ball should be a substantial contribution towards the upkeep (of the Seaside Home). This will be Walgoolan's second donation.

A letter was received from the Minister for Railways in reply to a request from the Walgoolan CWA, for a train to Merredin. He has authorised a change to be made in the new timetable, commencing on November 25 by which a train will leave Southern Cross about 5.30a.m.

on Thursdays, and pass through Walgoolan at 7.45, arriving at Merredin at 9 a.m., thus allowing people ample time board the Perth train.

<https://trove.nla.gov.au/newspaper/article/37679918?searchTerm=WA%20railway%20activities>

Over the last couple of weeks the community would have noticed big changes occurring to Pioneer Park – the area that abuts the Railway Museum. We are working with the building contractors to ensure access to the Museum remains safe and available to our guests.

There is now no walkway from the Highway to the Museum entrance which now can only be accessed via the pedestrian rail crossing through the carpark at the rear of the Visitor Centre. We look forward to the completion of the new design and encourage your continued patronage through this phase of construction. We aim to be open for business each day (subject to volunteer availability).

We urge all visitors to continue to be safe and vigilant when crossing the railway tracks.

PS: A huge "Thank You" to Aub Tompkin for giving our bronze memorial plaques (located on sleepers at the entry of the Museum) a much-needed rejuvenating polish.

They look terrific, Aub!

Tales from the Train

A modern take on travelling by train

By LADY RANTHAM

Tales from the Taxi

Fee is overtired. Fee is grumpy. Fee is risk-averse and the kind of woman that tops up her tank at half-full. Put a jet lagged and cranky Fee in a taxi that can be described as well-loved and sporting the aroma of heavy disinfectant that both relieves and worries the more thoughtful passenger, and she is already discomforted.

Add to that a flashing fuel light upon pulling out of the airport, and we upgrade to vexed. Ignoring the fuel light as it winks it's warning feebly gives rise to a pregnant silence that then goes into labour and has a whole litter of uncomfortable silences until a tinny little alarm starts an audio duet with the light, blue flashing more frequently. We are nearing the Chauffercide Threshold... Mentally Fee is already shopping for a really effective stain remover, coz she likes this dress.

Nearing home, the light stops flashing and just stays on, as if the little man in the dashboard who is in charge of the button has had a stroke and has face-planted on the button clutching his chest. I swear that if this bloke breaks down in a storm on the freeway, I'm going to put an edge on my corporate credit card and tattoo the Caltex logo on his forehead.

Community Feral Animal Control Funding

Are foxes, cats and rabbits having an impact on your bottom line?

Feral animals impact Wheatbelt farms and take out large numbers of native species.

Our Healthy Bushlands program offers pest control support to anyone wanting to reduce the effects these animals are having on native species in bushland on, or adjacent to, their property.

WTF 2nd — 15th JUNE 2022

By PETER BARRETT

Welcome to another WTF winter where the nights are long and frequently clear enough for some worthwhile stargazing.

The sun has now almost reached its northernmost declination and for us that means it does not rise until after 7am and is gone again at ten past five leaving us in darkness by 5:30pm.

This fortnight the moon waxes through Gemini and Cancer to a First Quarter in Leo on Tuesday 7th, then through Virgo, Libra and Scorpius to be full in Ophiuchus on the following Tuesday 14th.

Mercury will climb the morning sky over this fortnight and will be at its best by Friday the 16th. Venus and Uranus will be in conjunction on Saturday 11th.

The evening sky now takes on its typical winter pattern, with Orion setting in the West and Scorpius rising in the East. By 8pm the centre of the Milky Way is dominating the sky and the Emu can be easily identified.

Leo sits high in the sky to the North and bright red Arcturus dominates the Northeast. The bright star between Arcturus and the Southern Cross is Spica which represents the spike of wheat in Virgo's hand.

By midnight Saturn is well and truly up. The rest of the visible planets are still strictly an early pre-dawn show. Jupiter and Mars are still close together. No meteor showers are currently active.

Keep an eye on the WTF Facebook page. I'll be trying to keep you updated on satellites and space stations when they become visible over Merredin. Why not take some pictures of the sky and post them there? We all would all love to see them. Until then - keep looking up!

ASHLEY YONG
 LOCAL -iHEAR
 AUDIOMETRIST

I was fortunate enough to start my working career in Kalgoorlie and from then on I always knew I would come back to live.

Now I am here to set up to provide hearing care to Kalgoorlie, Norseman, Leonora, Esperance, Kambalda, Southern Cross and Merredin. I believe this will enhance the lives of generations of locals, helping them to hear, allowing them to engage so they can be heard and helping to maintain the connection that hearing brings with friends and loved ones.
