HRH QUEEN ELIZABETH II 1926-2022

*A Nation's Mother has died,
The Head of a Worldwide Family departed,*

*We are saddened and feel weakened,
A guiding light has been extinguished.*

*The light burned brightly for so long,
As her father before her*

*She placed her hand in God's.
This trust being better than any other way.*

*That smiling face will remain.
In our mind's eye always,*

*That humour will stay with us,
Her joy of life so evident.*

*Safe journey to the heavens.
Good person now departed,*

*An important life ended,
Elizabeth The Great has gone.....
'Long Live The King!'*

- Mr Edward Jenkins, 2022, a Cambridgeshire man

RIDE FOR LIFE - MENTAL HEALTH STEP UP

By ROMOLO PATRONI

On a cold cloudy morning on Thursday the 15th of September, 14 riders from the Goldfield musters rode into the Merredin Men's Shed yard complex having left Perth that morning on route to Kalgoorlie.

The riders, led by Gary Pontifex and supported by Neami Nationals, were making the ride to promote the Kalgoorlie Health Step Up/Step down service.

The Neami Nationals is a community mental health service supporting people to improve their health, live independently and pursue a life based on their own strengths, values, and goals.

Their services extend in diverse communities ranging from inner suburbs to regional and remote areas and use what's termed a collaborative recovery approach to support people.

Ideals that reinforce the principles of what the Men's Shed stand for and try to achieve in their own way in the Merredin Community.

The Shed members met the riders and hosted them to a lunch of two choices of soup and fresh pizza followed by cake desserts.

The lunch was prepared by two wonderful ladies in Julie Nicoletti and Audiene McCrae, a real treat much appreciated by the guests and Shed members.

Following lunch, an enlightening address was given by Damien Roper from the Neami Nationals exposing the values and objectives that affect many of our lives, and as menfolk the simple task of asking RUOK, the need to talk through your mental thoughts and drawing attention to mental health.

The visit finished off with the guests touring the Shed premises, having a group photo taken and then they were on their way again.

RIDE FOR COMPASSION

By LAURA CRUZ

On Saturday 17 September 2022, a group of intrepid cyclists embarked on Ride for Compassion: Coast to Coast - an epic trek from Perth to Newcastle, NSW. The month-long adventure will see the team ride around 150 km per day!

The Merredin Church of Christ welcomed the 27 riders and 13 support crew on Sunday 18th September at 5pm. Members from the church opened their homes for everyone to get a warm shower after their long ride. (Although this was the plan not everyone got a warm shower, thanks to the power outage many settled for a cold shower.)

The lovely ladies of the church provided a lovely dinner for everyone to share. One of the riders made a comment that they had never been fed so well, but I think if you are very hungry like most of them were any food is great food. The next morning, they were off on their way to Southern Cross, knowing very well they would be riding through the rain, and it poured down only a few minutes after they left.

About Ride for Compassion

Ride for Compassion is an annual event in which cyclists and support crew—with a desire to help children living in poverty—raise money for Compassion Australia. All funds raised are used to support Compassion's Critical Needs to help children living in poverty in developing countries. In 2022, a month-long ride will travel across Australia from coast to coast.

Poverty has a devastating impact on children, taking away their chance to learn and play, and instead exposing them to exploitation, violence or even death. Compassion is an international Christian ministry with over six decades of experience that equips over 8000 local church partners in over 25 countries to release children from poverty in Jesus' name. Only together with you can we restore hope and make change so children can reach their full potential. (taken from the Compassion Facebook page)

By MERREDIN LIBRARY

Staff at the Merredin Library are always trying to help patrons to find what they need. Currently the library has a display called 'I don't remember the title...but the cover was blue!' This is for all those people who want to re-read a book but can't remember what it was called. Yes, library staff can often find the book even without the title. Come in and test them today.

Remembering Greatness

It seems that the last few years have been an almost unending round of grief, with many well-known and loved characters being lost to the world. Looking back at their achievements and their lives is inspiring, encouraging us to learn from their example rather than focusing on the loss. The Merredin Library has many of these books, such as 'Don't stop believin' by Olivia Newton-John, 'Born-again Blakfella' by Jack Charles and 'Tell me why' by Archie Roach just to name a few.

Holiday Fun in the Library

Library staff are getting ready for school holiday fun. We have some of the favourites like clay modelling, but also have some new activities. Come along and make a paper plane, then race them against the others. See who can build the best plane. Have you ever made a painting using a spinner? Or with shaving cream? Create crazy designs or design your own paper using different techniques. Just remember to book. Go to bit.ly/MerLibraryEvent or call the library on 90411222.

Library Musings

Golden Feather Hunt

Have you found one of the hidden feathers? Merredin Library staff have hidden some feathers in books around the library, including one Amethyst Feather. If you find the Amethyst feather you will instantly win a prize. But you will have to read books to find it.

Remember to ask Library staff if you need help, whether it is how to create a wooden jigsaw puzzle, knit an animal hat, draw a mermaid, or find something on the internet. Staff are always ready with a smile and information. Library membership is free, and all library members have free access to eBooks and more. Come in and see what's new today.

Banter on Bates!

The Phoenix is introducing a new column. This will be a space where any positive community 'snippets' can be shared... as in big birthdays and anniversaries, opening of new community spaces, something big happening in town, thank you's for above and beyond and so on.

If you have anything to share, email administration3@merredincrc.com or phone the CRC on 90411041.

Inclusions will be dependent on space availability in each edition; however every effort will be made to publish all news.

HISTORY VISIT AT MERREDIN LIBRARY

By MERREDIN LIBRARY

The Merredin Library hosted a group visit from 'Family History WA' on Thursday.

The group of 14 visited from Perth, coming by car or rail, with plans to visit the Library, the Museums and maybe take in a little wildflower watching as well.

The visit started in the Merredin Library with the group being regaled by locals Rob Endersbee and Mal Harper.

Both gentlemen spoke enthusiastically about their long family histories with the Merredin area.

Library staff member Anita provided a wonderful afternoon tea.

The group were shown around the Wildflower Society Herbarium, then embarked on a short walking tour of Merredin streets with knowledgeable guide Anita, culminating in a visit to Cummins Theatre.

The group were wonderfully entertained, thoroughly enjoying the first day of their visit to Merredin.

The group would be visiting both the Merredin Military Museum and the Merredin Railway Museum on their second day, with hopes to visit Merredin Peak, some of the military sites and go wildflower spotting before leaving.

The Merredin Library has information about Family

History WA, a group that helps others to explore their family's history.

ST MARY'S DAY

St Mary's Day was celebrated on Friday 16 September with a Liturgy in the school hall and then all the students enjoyed participating in team building games in their faction.

This year's celebrations were extra special because the school hall was officially named the St Joseph's Hall.

SACRAMENT OF HOLY COMMUNION

On Sunday 9 September five students, Zac Crees, Hamish Carr, Greta Gethin, Patrick O'Neill and Wilson Mason received the Sacrament of Holy Communion.

They celebrated their special day by attending Mass and then enjoying a morning tea in the school hall.

From the History Room

By MERREDIN LIBRARY

These recipes are from the Merredin Mercury and Central Districts Index 1944.

The good old sausage definitely puts on party airs in this intriguing recipe... and what a saving on your meat coupons!

ALL BRAN SAVOURY CREAM MUFFINS

Moisten ½ cup Kellogg's All Bran with 1 cup milk. Sift 1½ cups self-raising flour with 1 teaspoon salt or celery salt and a few grains cayenne. Rub in 1 tablespoon shortening and 1 tablespoon finely grated cheese. Add soaked All Bran mixing to a moist dough. Roll to ½ inch thickness and cut with floured knife or round cutter. Bake on greased baking tray in hot oven for 10 to 12 minutes, or on preheated greased griddle over moderate heat. Grill, bake or fry 1lb sausages then slice thinly. Melt 1 tablespoon shortening in saucepan, stir in 1 tablespoon flour and cook for a few minutes. Add 2 cups meat stock or water, stirring until mixture boils and thickens. Add sliced sausages, 1 tablespoon grated cheese, 1 tablespoon chopped parsley and season to taste. Simmer for a few minutes before serving with the split hot muffins.

Introducing the new Australian Fire Danger Rating System

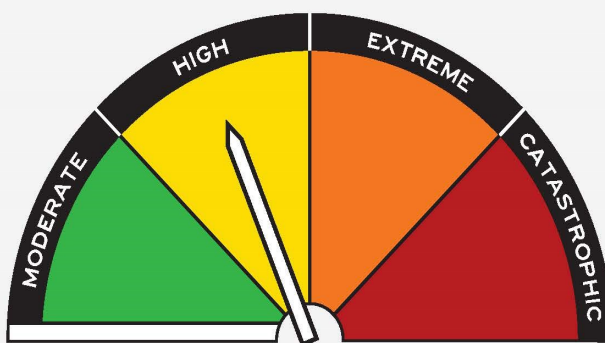

Fire Danger Ratings describe the potential level of danger should a bushfire start.

They are important because they provide people with information so that they can take action to protect themselves and others from the potentially dangerous impacts of bushfires.

Launched on 1 September 2022, the new Australian Fire Danger Rating System is a simplified, action-oriented Fire Danger Rating System.

The new Australian Fire Danger Rating System (AFDRS) levels are:

	Moderate Plan and prepare
	High Be ready to act
	Extreme Take action now to protect life and property
	Catastrophic For your survival, leave bushfire risk areas

- The AFDRS also introduces 'No Rating' for days where bushfires are unlikely to spread in a dangerous or life-threatening way. On these days you still need to remain alert and abide by local seasonal laws and regulations.
- The AFDRS is informed by one of Australia's largest social research projects which found that most Australians did not understand the old system and would prefer a simpler, action-oriented set of Fire Danger Ratings.
- The AFDRS has been implemented consistently across Australia and means that wherever you are across the country, you will be able to understand the threat posed on any given day and make appropriate decisions to keep you and your family safe.

HELLO OCTOBER!

MERREDIN COMMUNITY MEN'S SHED CHANGES AT THE SHED

By ROMOLO PATRONI

On Thursday 8th October, 22 members of the Merredin Men's Shed met for the Annual General Meeting.

Going into the meeting there was a degree of anticipation as there were no nominations for the Executive positions. The previous President and Deputy in Phill Sachse and Peter McCrae had made it clear that they would be standing down from the respective positions having both served out their term.

The President opened the meeting and following through the agenda presented his report on the activities of the year. He highlighted the voluntary work carried out in assisting the Shire in the Gateway Festival, the Railway Museum in their 50-year celebrations, the Anzac Day morning teas, and the bimonthly Merredin CRC market days. He also complimented members Campbell Lawson and Dennis Scaddan for the service in running the train at various events.

Some of the major projects were again in the cropping on the reserve north of town where the Shed were successful in negotiating an extension of their lease for another 5 years from the Shire of Merredin. The past crop was above expectation and yielded just under 2.5 tonnes per hectare.

The importance of the crop is reflected in the Shed finances as the Shed is almost totally self-funded. Phil went on to mention that this current crop looks even better. All of this is made possible by the generous assistance given by, firstly, member Peter McCrae who basically donates the seed and machinery to do the cropping and, secondly, by sponsors Nutrien Ag for fertilizer and chemicals, by Great Southern Fuels for diesel and others for their help. The contribution of the sponsors who assist the Shed was later reinforced by Langley Smith.

Other areas of activity were in the workshop, where the restoration of the McDonald roller x Shire and Chamberlain tractor for the mining giant Mineral Resources was finally finished and transported to site at Koolyanobbing.

Other areas of interest were in recycling of cans and bottles. This returned revenue of more than $3000 from which over $1000 was donated to the RFDS.

Phil finished his report by acknowledging the Life Membership awarded earlier in the year to Peter McCrae and certificates of appreciation awarded to Dennis Scaddan, Sam Teasdale, and Malcolm Robertson.

The anticipated election was conducted by Grant Bennett called on as returning officer. The results were Ross Duffield elected as President with his Deputy in Dennis Scaddan. They will head up a team of 7 members that make up the Management Committee. The Executive and Committee are elected for a two-year term.

The Meeting progressed by passing a motion regarding membership fees as required to be set at an AGM.

There was no other business, and the Chair congratulated the newly elected Members and wished them well for the coming year.

Tales from the Train

A modern take on travelling by train

By LADY RANTHAM

July 2020

I saw the most glorious exhibition of entitlement and ensuing disbelief this morning.

I work in the city and we had some hard working high-vis people repairing a dodgy section of paving. They'd obviously been dug in there since very early that morning and had set up a large circle of traffic cones connected with black and yellow striped bars, quite clearly delineating a safe workspace to keep the pedestrians streaming around them smoothly, while they went about their essential business.

I was particularly happy about that as I almost turned an ankle on one of the uneven pavers the week before, so was already kindly disposed to the PPE-clad angels making my commute smoother.

There was a fair glut of people in front of me, as I like to let the crowd disgorging from the station clear first and saunter at my own speed with plenty of physical distancing, so had a prime view of a young, slender gent in a pristine suit, a messy (more deshabbille) man-bun and those flashy gents' shoes that seem to stick out a good foot or so longer than necessary (no pun intended) wearing a little wireless Madonna headset, having some sort of high-powered stock broker's conversation as he walked up the hill.

Coming to the fenced off area, instead of flowing seamlessly AROUND it, as the rest of his compatriots were doing, he literally high-stepped over the bar and continued to walk THROUGH the worksite. Now I don't know if he was a champion hurdler on weekends and there was something about the knee-high bar that called to something deep in his soul, or whether he was just an entitled fardwark who didn't realise that the rules apply to him, but over he went, one mildly clowny shoe at a time and sauntered through the lifted pavers and tools and people!

But the best bit was the expression on the face of one of the blokes who glanced up as he saw us approaching and the beautiful transition from dawning quizzicality that then rose into the sunrise of disbelief which quickly climbed into the glorious sunshine of pure and unadulterated speechlessness at the sheer audacity and obliviousness. He gaped. His jaw literally sagged. One arm twitched as if to reach out to ward him off, but then the brain just froze mid-gesture as the mind was unable to cope with the evidence being presented by the optic nerve. It really did look like some vital connection in his frontal lobe had snapped. He did not recover until the Entitled Fardwark had completed his second high-stepping hurdle, back into the general population and dissolved into the crowd when his operating system rebooted.

I could almost hear the Microsoft chime in my mind's eye. One of my ribs may have strained in the attempt not to laugh as he shook himself and tried to ratchet his eyebrows back down out of his hairline and reapply himself to the paving lifter in his hands.

There really is an endless supply of entertainment in the daily cabaret, if you keep your eyes open.

Thank You Merredin Bootscooters

What wonderful and generous people call Merredin home!

Recently, we were the lucky recipients of a generous donation from the Merredin Bootscooters. Over the years we have come to know this group of dedicated ladies and gentlemen through the exhibition of their skill and talent in dance and music at many local and regional events. More recently they performed at the Country Campfire weekend organised by Audienne and Peter MacCrae. Their talents were again on display at the Southern Cross Show. Meeting each Monday, they spend hours perfecting their routines to ensure every performance appears effortless.

On behalf of all of us at the Railway Museum, we wish to sincerely thank the Merredin

Bootscooters for their support and look forward to hosting them for a visit.

Our Pioneer Womens' Garden near the western gate is undergoing a refurbishment thanks to the keen efforts of our gardening gurus. Keep an eye out!

WTF 8TH SEPTEMBER - 21ST SEPTEMBER 2022

By PETER BARRETT

Welcome to the Autumnal Equinox edition of WTF, even though it is about as far from autumn as it is possible to get.

The September event is so named because of the hegemony of the Northern Hemisphere, who think they own the sky, and that they are “up” and we in the Southern Hemisphere are “down”, which will be particularly ironic tomorrow, the 23rd, when the sun leaves them for dead at exactly 9:03am and won’t return to them for a full six months.

Skywatching this fortnight is enhanced by the absence of the moon. Jupiter comes into exact opposition on Sunday 25th. The big gas giant rises as the sun sets and totally dominates the sky until sunrise. Saturn is now almost overhead at sunset and the centre of the Galaxy is also still spread across the Western sky.

Mercury completes its inferior conjunction and begins to race away from us at increasing speed. By the end of the fortnight, it will be easy to spot low in the East an hour before sunrise.

It can be seen from the tables that Venus is now almost stationary in relation to us as it comes within seven minutes of superior conjunction by the end of the fortnight.

Mars is moving a little faster but still seems to be suffering stage fright as it gradually inches toward opposition on December 8th.

Those of you looking forward to a trip to Mars may be interested to learn that Monday 26th is launch window day. If your spacecraft does not depart for Mars on this day, you will not get another opportunity until October 17th, 2024. A launch on any other day will miss the target or use more fuel than you can carry. Mars launch windows occur only every two years roughly.

Although it is true to say that the most spectacular viewing targets such as the Magellanic clouds, Carina, Scorpio and the Southern Cross are here in the southern hemisphere, there are a few celestial jewels that reside in the deep North, and we must wait for the right time of the year to see them. I’m referring of course to the Andromeda and Triangulum galaxies.

As the square of Pegasus takes its place in the Northern sky, so Andromeda rises above the Northern horizon enough to get some long exposure shots. This week you may spot it close to true North after 9:30pm. Good Luck! Keep looking up!
